REDGUM LEAD SINGER TO PERFORM LIVE AT TAROOM SHOW

The Taroom Show Society are increasing their efforts to help combat depression and other mental illnesses within Taroom and the wider community. This year, the show committee is both excited and honoured to welcome John Schumann- former lead singer of the popular band Redgum- to the Taroom Show for a special concert promoting mental health.

The concert has been made possible by Rural and Remote Mental Health. This non-for-profit organisation with a charitable status delivers prevention programs and early interventions to improve the mental health of everyone living and working in rural and remote Australia.

Taroom Show Society president Shane Williams said Rural and Remote Mental Health will be at the show to provide information about the mental health of individuals, as well the health of friends, family and the wider community.

“We are privileged to deliver this service to Taroom, and to have John Schumann open the show and perform will be extremely special,” Mr Williams said.

Having experienced mental illness himself, John knows how critical prevention is and if things are not going well, to seek help early. He is a passionate Australian who sees people in the bush not getting the same services as our urban cousins. John works tirelessly to decrease stigma, increase help seeking and encourage people to smile whilst doing it.

The concert will begin at three o'clock on Tuesday, May 3 at the Taroom Showgrounds. The Taroom Show Society and Rural and Remote Mental Health gratefully acknowledge the funding made available by the Australian Government’s National Suicide Prevention program to deliver this service.

GRAND PARADE, OFFICIAL OPENING TIME CHANGES

The Taroom Show Society has changed the time of the grand parade and official opening on the Tuesday of the show, to help make the grand parade the spectacular feature event it traditionally has been at country shows.

In past years, the number of competitors participating in the grand parade has declined but president Shane Williams is confident the time change will rectify this.

“In past years, people are packing up and getting ready to head home when the grand parade has been on. This year however, people will still be competing and therefore they will have the opportunity to easily enter in the grand parade.”

The grand parade will be held at midday, the official opening will move to 1pm, while the official lunch will be held at 2pm.

COURTESY BUS

The Taroom Show Society will again provide a courtesy bus to drop patrons home on the Monday night of the show. The bus will leave from the main bar.

BAR CHANGES

The bar will operate on a drink tickets system this year to make it easier on our volunteers. Drink tickets purchased on Monday can be used again on Tuesday.

SHOW OFFICE

The show office will be open from April 26th to 29th from 9am to 5pm, and again on April 30th from 9am to midday. The show office will be located in the New Hope office, next to the arcade. For more information, please contact Taroom Show secretary Jess Oliver by emailing admin@taroomshow.com.au

NEW COMPUTER PROGRAM TO SAVE TIME

This year the Taroom Show Society has purchased the computer software ShowDays to help organise nominations and results for the show. This will save our volunteers many hours of work. To help us with this transition, we ask entrants to have in mind what classes they would like to enter in before they nominate and please be patient while our volunteers are learning this new system.

Class numbers have changed from previous years. Members details have already been entered into the computer, which will save members time when entering. This year only the pavilion, produce, cattle, and poultry sections will use the computer system. Horse nominations will remain the same as previous years, with nomination cards available for purchase prior to events.

Remember— all schedules with a list of classes can be found online at www.taroomshow.com.au

PAVILION OPENS JUDGING UP TO PUBLIC

The Ladies Committee is excited to present a live judging demonstration for several classes in the cookery section this year.

A judge from Miles will officiate several classes in front of the Tom Curran Pavilion at 10am on Monday, May 2. These classes will include the hotly contested men's cooking competition, which this year will feature the infamous sponge cake.

The Ladies Committee welcomes everyone to come along and watch the judging. It will be an interesting experience, and people stand to gain knowledge and tips for their own use from it.

* In response to the popular men's cooking class, the Ladies Committee has this year introduced a women's only welding class.

* Please note that nominations for the pavilion and produce sections will be accepted from 2-5pm on Sunday, May 1. No nominations will be accepted after 5pm on Sunday, May 1 for these sections.
